Tutoring Experience

I began my tutoring journey in 2014, focusing on IB Geography and IGCSE Geography. Over the years, I have helped students navigate challenging exam content, including coursework and extended essays. My experience includes working with students across Asia, Europe, and the Middle East, providing comprehensive support tailored to their academic goals.

In addition to individual sessions, I have collaborated with schools to conduct workshops on key geographical themes such as sustainability and resource management. This has allowed me to support students not just in their exams but in developing a deeper appreciation for global geographical challenges and their solutions.
